I don't know if it is because we are moving toward Thanksgiving or if it is because I have been focusing on the Generous Giving Campaign here at LCUMC, but I have been thinking about some special people who have blessed my life with their generosity. I think of Del and Norene Fiedler of Central Christian Church in Walla Walla, Washington where I was the associate pastor from 1965-1967. This wonderful couple welcomed Sherry and me into their family and invited us to come to their home every Sunday after the evening service for popcorn and pinochle. They mentored us through the first two years of our marriage and service in the church and became the Godparents for our first child.

I think of Rae Rickard, the secretary of First Congregation Church in Oakland, CA who gave us great support during our fifteen years in Oakland, especially at the birth of our first child. She rescued me financially when, as a young pastor, I totally blew my responsibilities in publicizing an ecumenical event and threw us into debt. I think of Mr. and Mrs. Dorweiller in Bakersfield who secretly and generously included me in their will, giving us an amount which provided the downpayment for a cabin in the mountains. That second home became an amazing gathering place for friends and family for eighteen years.

There are so many more who generously enriched our lives, financially, spiritually, and relationally, during our thirty seven years in Bakersfield, and the seven years we have lived in Laguna Woods. Yes, we know the generosity of God. We also know the generosity that comes through God's people. Let us give thanks for them.

Peace and Blessings, Pastor David

Sermon Themes

November 2nd The Generosity of God Genesis 1:26-31; Romans 8:31-32

The scriptures are full of statements of the generosity of God. From the story of creation in Genesis through the letters of Paul, we read of God's provisions for vegetation, animal life, and humankind. The Psalms declare the goodness of God. The God of all people provides sun and rain, seasons of harvest, and the presence of the Holy Spirit to fill and guide all of humanity. God's love is lavished upon the earth.

November 9th The Generosity of God's People I Chronicles 29:6-13; Acts 2:44-47; II Corinthians 8:1-4

The people of Israel responded generously when asked to make freewill offerings for the building of the temple and King David responded with a song of praise. The Christian scriptures describe how the early Christians would sell their possessions and distribute the proceeds to any who had need, a true communal. Paul praises the church in Corinth for their generosity even in the midst of extreme poverty, first giving of themselves.

November 16th Generosity Changes the World Leviticus 19:9-10; II Chronicles 31:5-10; II Corinthians 9:6-12

The Israelite farmers were instructed to not reap from the edges of the field so that the poor and needy could also have food. This theme continues in the effects of generosity, that there would be enough to eat and to spare. Paul reminds the Church in Corinth that God is able "to provide you with every blessing in abundance," so that they can share abundantly. We plant, but God increases the harvest.

November 23rd Celebration of Generosity: Presentation of Commitment Cards Psalms 34:1-10; Philippians 4:15-20

The Psalm of David is one of celebration of the blessings of God. It is full of familiar statements, like "taste and see that the Lord is good," ending with this phrase: "Those who seek the Lord lack no good thing." Paul celebrates the faithfulness of the church providing for him at his time of need, closing with: "And my God will fully satisfy every need of yours..."

November 30th First Sunday in Advent – The People of Hope Isaiah 9:1-2, 6-9; Luke 2:25-38

There are many references to Jesus, the Christ in the Hebrew scriptures, for there was a longing, a waiting for the coming of the Messiah. The Christian writings in the Gospels constantly refer to the words in the Psalms and the Prophets who spoke of the one who was to come and save the people. And then, in the Gospel of Luke we have Simeon and Anna, who in their old age waited for the coming of the Christ – all people of hope.

Friendship Gate

During the inception of Leisure World, the Rossmore Corporation donated land on the community's perimeter to various religious denominations, recognizing the marketing value of easy access to various churches for the age group they were trying to attract.

In 1966, as a result of receiving complaints from residents about making long walks on busy traffic streets to attend religious services, Golden Rain agreed to install gates for the benefit of residents attending the four houses of worship located adjacent to Leisure World's walls. The churches and temple paid for the construction, administration and upkeep of these gates. The original concept was that Leisure World

Security would open the gate to allow access to the church whenever a church activity was scheduled to take place. These gates were locked at other times, and when open were checked by Security officers. After they written authorization from their church or temple, individual residents were issued keys to these gates.

On Sunday, June 22, 1969 the Congregations of the United Methodist Church and Temple Judea united in a service of memorial and dedication of "The Brotherhood Gate," a gift to the two congregations by the late Paul I. Wynhausen, a member of Temple Judea.

"The Brotherhood Gate" opened into the parking lots of Temple Judea and the United Methodist Church from Avenida Carmel. Pedestrian gates flanked either side of the entrance, each appropriately identified with a Star of David and the Christian Cross.

Mounted on each side was a bronze plaque on which was inscribed the words from Exodus 3:5: "For the place whereon thou standest is holy ground," one in Hebrew and one in English.

At the dedication, the Methodist Church presented a framed memorial plaque to Temple Judea which read: "to the Glory of God, a special gift of a Brotherhood Gate has been presented by Paul I. Wynhausen and directed to man's concern for Holy Ground shared by Temple Judea and the United Methodist Church of Laguna Hills."

There was also an access gate to St. Nicholas Catholic Church from United Mutual and a gate to the Lutheran Church of the Cross from Third Mutual. Unfortunately, gates permitted ingress and egress to and from Leisure World to those attending houses of worship also provided a path to those seeking a short cut to commercial enterprises on both Moulton Parkway and El Toro Road.

By 1985, it became obvious that these gates represented a significant security risk to Leisure World. At one time an estimated 1,770 keys were at large and there were numerous incidents of residents propping the gates open or leaving their keys in the gate locks.

After a series of tumultuous meetings and gatherings in late 1985 and January 1986, United and Third Mutuals voted to brick up the walls and remove the gates. In the case of The Brotherhood Gate, the Methodist Church and Temple Judea were given the option to determine the disposition of the physical remains of their gate.

It was then decided that the gate—to be called the "Friendship Gate"—would be used as a symbol of the spirit of cooperation that existed between the church and the temple, to provide physical evidence of the peace and harmony between two different faiths worshipping God in their own way and living side by side.

It is in that spirit that both congregations gather annually at a joint service on a Sunday afternoon to celebrate the meaning of Friendship Gate.

WORLD THANK OFFERING

The World Thank Offering is a way for members of United Women in Faith to show their gratitude for God's blessings and find creative ways to raise funds to improve the lives of women, children and youth.

Some women drop a coin in a box or a jar each day to give thanks for their daily blessings, while others add coins and dollars on special occasions in their lives.

Through the World Thank Offering you support the total program of mission carried on through United Women in Faith's national office in the United States and around the world.

Some of our members have been collecting for this offering during the year. Our November UWF meeting on November 15th at 10:30 a.m. will feature a program and an offering for this ministry.

Volunteers Needed

Each Thursday at 10:30 a.m., we lead a one-hour worship service at Freedom Village, an assisted living community. This is a wonderful opportunity to share God's love and fellowship with the residents. We are looking for volunteers to help with greeting, singing, reading scripture, and simply being present to support the service.

If you are available to help once in a while—or on a regular basis—please contact the church office. Your presence will be a blessing to both the residents and our ministry team.

Prayer Shawl Group

Our next gathering will be Thurs., November 13 at 2:00 in the church office area. You may bring what you are currently working on, or just come for the fun and fellowship!

Blessings on your work!

To get started, we'd love your help. If you have gently used books—Christian living, devotionals, Bible studies, children's stories, or even good, wholesome fiction—please consider donating them. Every book will help build a collection that our whole church family can enjoy.

Donations can be dropped off in the church office during the week or placed in the library donation box in the foyer on Sundays. Thank you for helping us plant the seeds of a library that will bless our community for years to come!

What Your Generous Giving Supports

Laguna Country UMC has provided worship and services to this community and beyond for sixty-one years. Twenty-seven years ago we supported a new Korean Congregation financially and with a space to worship and grow. Generous giving through the years has made it possible to build and maintain these aging church facilities which are now used by our two congregations and many outside groups. Generous giving provides opportunities for volunteers to engage in support of worship, fellowship, education, missions, outreach, men and women's groups, and the church office. In addition to the appointment of a full-time pastor (David Atkins), generous giving provides financial support for other staff members: Church Administrator (Ashleigh Kelly), Music Director (Richard Warne), Custodian (Joe Pring), Director of Technology (Michael Beu), and the new position of Handy Man (Roger Gillette). As part of a connectional church, our generous giving is shared with mission work outside of our church and the support of district and conference staff and ministries. In some ways we appear to be a small church, but because of generous giving, we have a large impact in the world.

Choir Loft and Choir Risers

You may have noticed changes in the choir loft. Because the space has been filled in where the organ was previously placed, the bell choir has spread out into a semi-circle. With the help of Richard, music director, risers for the choir are being designed by Rodelio Villanueva. Bids for the construction will be requested. Previously donated funds will support this plus new chairs for the choir.

What's Going On

Meet Our Staff

By: Pastor David _____

Richard Warne, Director Of Music

Pastor: Tell me where you are from originally and a little about your family of origin.

Richard: I was born in Glendale, CA March 24, 1941. My mother was from Toronto, CA and my father from Oregon. I have a younger sister who lives in Spokane. When I was about 8, my father, an electrical engineer, bought five acres of Pecan Trees near Northridge. We lived in tents for a year while we built a garage in which we lived until we built a concrete block house. I helped build the house.

Pastor: Tell me about your professional career.

Richard: Early on, like 7, I wanted to play the piano, I don't know why, and we didn't have one so I walked one quarter mile on dirt roads to practice at a home of a family who raised walnuts and other tree nuts. I helped the man in his orchards, mowed lawn, but kept walking down there to practice until I was in my teens. My first public performance was "Moonlight Sonata" at the age of 10 at a PTA meeting. I was very nervous. The coaches would not let me play sports for fear of injuring my hands, so I sat on the bench. At the age of 11 we were at a Barker Brothers store where a pipe organ was being played. I loved the sound and thought, "I have to do that." The Lutheran Church where the family attended had an organ, so I started playing it and at 11 was playing for church. I was so nervous that I couldn't eat breakfast Sunday mornings. I went to Cal State Northridge, working toward an engineering degree, but wanted to study electrical engineering, so transferred to Pierce College. I became the accompanist for various choral groups. I intended to return to CSN in engineering, but the choral director insisted that I attend the USC school of music. She made arrangements for that, and without applying, I was sent a letter of admission from the dean.

Pastor: When and how did you get connected with Laguna Country UMC?

Richard: It was by accident. I had seen the church before moving into Laguna Woods Village and thought, "Sometime I have to go by there." In February of 2011 I decided to attend worship. The lady greeting me asked about my history as Music Director at Hollywood United Methodist for over 40 years, took me to Jack Hammen who took me to Rev. James Dollins who asked me to play for a funeral that week. I was then asked to submit a resume for the position of Music Director, the first resume of my life. I started with the choir, and it grew to 27 people.

What's Going On

Meet Our Staff

Pastor: What are your basic duties here at LCUMC?

Richard: All the music. Never had a job description. I still don't. I started with the choir, then directing the bells, then all the service music. Organization and communication are always at the center. I believe in long term planning. I still practice. At 84 I ask, "How long can I do this?" I will just keep going and see how long it lasts.

Pastor: What are some of the highlights while working at LCUMC?

Richard: Working with people who are older. People have wisdom and life experience. Here people have gone through life, but it is interesting to see how people who are older can pick up new things

Pastor: What do you like about your job?

Richard: I just love making music and I love sharing that with people. I like working with people who have no music background and see what they can do at 75 or 80 years of age. Music can bridge boundaries. I like working with a pastor who is a musician.

Pastor: What do you find challenging?

Richard: Working with whoever comes through the door. It is different every week. I try to remain flexible.

Pastor: Do you have a favorite Bible verse or hymn?

Richard: That keeps changing because I am not the same every day. I like the passage that says, "Do not be anxious about anything." I like the passage in Colossians, that says to let the Peace of Christ rule in your hearts...be thankful...sing to God with thankfulness in your heart. I like to go to ChatGPT and find verses that express where I am at the moment.

Pastor: What word of encouragement would you give to people in the church?

Richard: Be inclusive. We are an embracing congregation regardless of what people believe. You can be your individual spoke in the wheel and still be part of the wheel. The more spokes there are, the more strength in the wheel. All lead to Christ at the Center.
